

Principles of Acute Oncology CPD course

Ready to gain advanced-level skills and knowledge next January? Are you a registered healthcare professional (in Acute Oncology) looking to critically review the care of people with suspected or confirmed cancer who are experiencing acute complications. You'll use current standards, evidence and contemporary guidance to examine patient care in detail and benchmark it against current standards so you can demonstrate an evidence-based critical understanding.

The short course is delivered entirely online over a five-week-period, on a Thursday, starting Jan 2023.

You'll be taught by an expert team of academics with diverse backgrounds, including industry-active guest speakers.

Entry Requirements

Applicants should be current health or social care professionals caring for patients with acute oncology needs.

Interested?

Contact us to find out more
Email cpd@uclan.ac.uk
or call 01772 893836

University of Central Lancashire
UCLan